

Stretch Frisbee

ABSTRACT

- 5 A frisbee is formed of material capable of stretching and converting stored elastic energy therein into ballistic kinetic energy when despatched by hand. The frisbee is typically made of a gelatinous composition produced by a melt blend of a copolymer and plasticising oil or oils.